Oghma Partners Releases Belgian and French Food Ingredients Market and M&A Report

Oghma Partners, the corporate finance advisor to the consumer industry, is pleased to share the release of its Belgian and French Food and Beverage Ingredients Market and M&A report.

The report provides detailed insights into:

- Market size, growth, and key trends
- M&A activity
- Current trading dynamics of publicly listed ingredients companies
- Profiles and strategic analysis of major players
- A deep dive into the ingredients company landscape across Belgium and France

The Belgian and French food ingredients markets are the eighth and fifth largest in Europe respectively, with botanicals representing the fastest-growing ingredient category – driven by consumer demand for convenient, healthy and natural products. In recent years, leading players have engaged in significant acquisition activity both domestically and internationally, with a focus on geographic expansion and portfolio repositioning in line with current trends.

A full copy of the report is available on request.
